

VERMONT IS CELEBRATING ITS FIRST EVER

TDM WEEK 2023

Transportation Demand Management Week

SEPTEMBER 16-23, 2023

Transportation Demand Management (TDM) is the use of strategies to inform and encourage travelers to maximize the efficiency of our transportation systems leading to improved mobility, reduced congestion, and lower vehicle emissions.

During TDM Week Vermonters across the state are celebrating and promoting the positive benefits TDM has on the sustainability of our communities and the improvements to quality of life of all people.

TDM is an often overlooked, but critical pathway to achieving Vermont's Carbon Reduction goals. At its essence, TDM is the umbrella term of the work being done to reduce single-occupancy vehicles on the road. This work includes providing high quality transit options, designing streets for people on foot and bike, supporting bike and car sharing services, encouraging carpool and vanpooling, creating park and ride lots, among others.

TDM puts people-oriented solutions first and represents work being done across the state to reduce drive alone rates. Please join us in attending one of the following events in celebration of TDM Week!

Here are the events:
